1. Workshop was called to order by President at 9:00am.
2. Public Comments: There was no public comment.
3. Recited Proposed Regulation Changes with Comments

Section 1. Ms. Gilroy of Bridge Counseling requested clarification of added language concerning "circumstances in which a Primary Supervisor may immediately suspend a Supervision Agreement." There is some concern about interns who secure a supervision agreement with Supervisors who are employed at Bridge Counseling and then seek employment somewhere other than Bridge Counseling where the Supervisor is not comfortable in supporting the intern's employment decision. If an intern moves forward contrary to supervision's advisement, does Supervision have the right to terminate or suspend the Supervision Agreement?

President: The Board will support the action/decision of the Supervisor.

Ms. Vande Voort: How does the Supervisor terminate a supervision agreement when they find out that an internship employment situation that was thought to be appropriate turns out to be an inappropriate situation where the supervisor's license is being put at risk?

President: The Board is becoming more aware of these situations and also finds that they will support the action/decision of the Supervisor.

DAG: When it comes to the attention of the Supervisor that the intern is not practicing as you would like, do you, the supervisor, attempt to stop the bad practices or do you move immediately suspending the internship Agreement?

Ms. Vande Voort: In most situations it is the supervisor who becomes aware of the specifics of the practices of the employment situation. It turns out that things are not what the supervisor thought. There is a process for repair of the intern's practices to more ethical behavior and not an immediate suspension of practice.

President: When the intern is in a situation of employment where they are obligated to adhere to agency practices that the supervisor is not comfortable with, the Board would support the Supervisor who would reserve the right to discontinue supervision.

Section 2. NAC 641A.085. (More clarification for "including clinical expertise working with individuals, couples and families" will be added. The DAG will work with the Board on the language needed for this section.)

paragraph 3. add language:

- a. Courses in the supervised practice or marriage and family therapy must include clinical experience working with individuals, couples and families. Clinical experience with only individuals does not meet this study area requirement.

Section 3. NAC 641A.146. (No comment.)

Section 4. NAC 641A.182. Ms. O'Neal of Nevada Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (NAMFT): Supervisors should meet the requirement of AAMFT Certified Supervisors and equivalence supervisors should not be used.

President: This is a general comment around supervisors and not a comment to the proposed changes. Does NAMFT have a problem with someone who has the equivalence in training to the AAMFT Approved Supervisor candidate?

Ms. O'Neal of Nevada Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (NAMFT): There is a preference to AAMFT's systemic training of supervisors.

Ms. Harris: Clarification was needed.

Section 5. NAC 641A.252. (No comment.)

4. Public Comments: Dr. Unthank: The Code of Ethics for the National Board of Certified Counselors (NBCC) can also be changed or updated.

President: It has been verified that NBCC has not yet released their new version of their Code of Ethics.
So, we are not able to make that change yet.

Ms. O'Neal: NAMFT also recommends changes to the regulation to accept live online trainings as face to face CEUs. (see attachment.)

If changes are substantive, the latest proposed regulations will be sent to the Legislative Counsel Bureau (LCB) for drafting.

After drafting another public Workshop will be held either in the North and/or the South.

However, if there are no major changes, then a final approved version will be produced.

Following this we will schedule a Public Hearing for adoption of proposed regulation.

If there are major changes then, after the changes are made to the latest proposed regulations another public workshop will be held to go over the changes.
